MRS. PROCTOR PASSES AWAY.

Widow of Former Newspaper Man
Lived Here All Her Life.

Mrs. Mary A. Proctor 77, a member of one of Washington's oldest families and a life long resident of the Capital, died yesterday at her home, 942 Florida avenue northwest.

Mrs. Proctor was born on March 25, 1838, in the old first ward. She was a granddaughter of John Hines, a revolutionary hero who settled in Washington shortly after its selection as the nation's Capital. Mrs. Proctor was married to John C. Proctor, of Hagerstown, Md., who was Washington correspondent for the Philadelphia Public Ledger and city editor of the National Republican, of this city.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Ladies! Try this. Darkens beautifully and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss. While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, you can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.—Adv.

WOMEN PLEA FOR PEACE CONGRESS

Want Convention of Neutrals to Bring About Worldwide Disarmament.

URGE POLICING OF SEAS

Peace Party Delegates Have Innings
Before House and Senate Committees—Jane Addams Speaks.

Pacificists had their innings yesterday before the House and Senate Committees on Foreign Affairs when Miss Jane Addams, heading a delegation from the Woman's Peace party, told both bodies that "all the belligerent countries of Europe want somebody to show them the way to peace and at the same time let them save their faces."

Miss Addams, backed up by other speakers and followed by a throng of women which filled both committee rooms, was asked in the morning hearing on the House side by Representative Cooper, of Wisconsin, as the truth of Europe want somebody to show them the way to peace and at the same time let them save their faces."

"These reports are not true," declared Miss Addams. "The people in this country do not realize that the people in Europe are walking hand in hand with death and grief in practically every family, and that the masses of the people in every country want peace. We were received with solemnity and respect everywhere."

Ask Congress of Neutrals.

The representatives of the Woman's Peace party said they appeared before the committees to make some suggestions as to the power of the United States to bring about peace in Europe, but they addressed themselves particularly to a resolution empowering the President to call a conference of delegates from all the neutral nations to consider means of bringing about world disarmament, policing of the seas and other means of insuring world peace.

Among the speakers before both committees in addition to Miss Addams, were Miss Zola Gale, the novelist; Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict, of New York; Mrs. Lucia A. Mead, of Boston; Miss S. A. Brockbridge, of Chicago.

"We found in Europe," said Miss Addams in her address to the Senate committee yesterday afternoon, "disaffection among the people of all the nations embroiled in the present conflict. They seemed to think that there had been too much secret diplomacy, that they should have known what was going to happen, and that they should know now what it is proposed to do to remove from them the terrors of war."

Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago, will address the committees on military affairs of both the House of Representatives and the Senate tomorrow. She will talk to the House committee at 10:30 o'clock in the morning in the committee room of the House, and will address the Senate committee the same afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in room 225 of the Senate Office Building.

REPRESENTATIVES HONORED.

New Hampshire Association Receives at W. C. T. U. Parlors.

Members of the New Hampshire Association of the W. C. T. U. held a reception on Wednesday night in honor of Representative E. H. Wason, of that State, and Representative W. H. Carter, of Massachusetts, in the parlors of the National Christian Temperance Union, 523 Sixth street northwest.

Preceding the reception, a literary and musical program was presented by members of the association. Former Representative George C. Haseltine presided.

The program was as follows: Tenor solo, Riccardo Zappone; duet, Edward M. Witaker and H. F. Keyser; violin solo, Mrs. R. B. Clayton, accompanied by Herbert Brantley; recitation, Riccardo Zappone; solo, Clarence H. Freeark, accompanied by J. E. Bagley; piano solo, Herbert Brantley, and vocal solo by Mrs. Ralph Quigley, accompanied by Alfred Morri.

3,000 Wounded Saved by War Dogs.

Berlin (Via Sayville), Jan. 11.—The dogs of the army hospital service have had a hospital provided for them in Jena and already a number of dog patients have been treated for wounds and various ailments. The hospital was built by co-soldiers.

So far during the war the dogs of the service have rescued at least 3,000 wounded soldiers who otherwise would have perished.

THE SPIRIT OF BROTHERLY LOVE PREVAELS HERE

"Do Unto Others As You Would Have Them Do Unto You" Is Practiced Here.

Seldom when a person hears of anything good, does he or she tell others about it so they can get the benefit from it, too. This seems to be the modern business idea, but the people of Washington are proving they are of a different kind from that. When they find something good, they straightway tell others about it and try to put health and happiness within the reach of all. This is proven by the people who have taken Dreco, the new medicine, and found that it brings relief from suffering. They tell the people here, through the press, that it is a good medicine.

Yesterday the following signed statement was handed to Mr. Fulton, the special Dreco representative at O'Donnell's store, which proves our statement above: "For a long time I have suffered from weak nervous system, nervous headache, heartburn, stomach full of gas, and badly constipated. I used nearly everything I saw advertised or that anyone recommended to me, with only temporary results. A friend advised me to try the new medicine Dreco that everyone was praising so highly, so I bought a bottle and it was the best money I ever spent. Right from the first I began to improve, and now at the end of the bottle, I am feeling fine. Constipation entirely relieved, no more gas forms in my stomach, and I eat anything I want, have no more heartburn, headache, or dizzy spells. Truly Dreco has done wonders for me," signed by Miss Anna Walker, Congress Court, Sixth and L streets northwest. Words like these from people right in our own city surely should convince people of the great merits of Dreco. Come to O'Donnell's main store, 947 F street, and talk over your complaint with the Dreco man, and sample a dose of the medicine.—Adv.
